Profile

A graduate of Fontys Hogeschoolen ICT with a major of ICT&business with an interest over data privacy and it's regulation. I am a competent IT Professional that is proficient in the website development scene especially PHP. I have strong technical skills as well as excellent interpersonal skills that enables me to interact with a wide range of people. I am eager to be challenged in order to grow and further improve my IT skills. My passion in life is using my technical know-how to benefit other people and organisations.

I have a great facination with technologies and computers. Fiddling with technologies, fixing computers, and some occasional bike repair is a hobby of mine.
